. Visitors to the state museum at the state house have been much interested of late in the habitat groups of birds which have recently been completed. Mrs. Harry Thompson of Augusta was engaged to complete paintings of the backgrounds of these groups which were started some time ago, as she aided former curator, Thomas A. James, in the work when it was first commenced. The background of the loon group has also also the splendid deer group, and these exhibits, together with the other beautiful habitat groups, are centers of attrac-tion these days when so many visitors are calling at the museum.

Leave it to Lloyd! That baby can plant three laughs where anybody else would only put one, and in "Girl Shy" he sure has crammed comedy around his horn-rimmed glasses A Lloyd comedy is always clean and you can be sure of just enough sympathetic appeal to give your ribs a rest. In "Girl Shy" Harold is the assistant of a tailor in a small town. He's the sort sight of a skirt and the frills like to drop Acted out on the screen we see the chapters he is writing on how to treat a vampire and a flapper!!!

A Kitchen Sonnet. O, little room, wherein my days go by! Each like to each, yet each one set apart For special duties—nearest to my heart Art thou of all the house—in thee I try New issues, when the old ones go awry, And with new victories allay the smart Of dismai failures, and sfresh I start With courage new, to conquer or to die.

O simple walls, no pictures break thy calm O, simple floor, uncarpeted below! The inward eye has visions for its balm, And duty done is solace for all woe. And every modest too! that hangs in view Is fitted for the work it has to do.

Making an Old Kitchen New. (By Doris W. McCray.)

The other day a group of women met to talk about making over kitchens. After partaking of an unusually good picnic dinner and the usual exchange of See his biggest and best seven reel recipes, we began the regular meeting comedy and drive duli care away with The group of thirteen women represent recipes, we began the regular meeting. worlds of Floyd laughs. The meeting took place in Iowa, but the you'll roar, you'll laugh until your ribs same thing is happening all over the country, where neighbors get together to talk over their problems with the nelp of a government specialist sent out by their state college.
Our specialist first asked the women which they wanted most, light or water in the kitchen. She told of one woman who had a sink and running water put into her kitchen for $6, another for $8, each confessing that she could have afforded it long ago had she known how small the expense would be. Several women present who had had electricity pointed out its advantages, and said they used the power not only for light; but for running various ma-chines. The relative cost of acetylene, ectric light from a farm plant, and light from the high power line were

HOW MUCH WINDOW SPACE?

Brackets over the sink and work-table to hold lamps where they would give best light for evening work were then recommended. One specialist said the glass area in a kitchen should be 20 per cent of the floor area; for instance, a room measuring ten by twelve feet would have 120 square feet in the floor, and therefore the windows should total twenty-four square feet of glass. She mentioned white walls as making the room seem lighter and larger; but light gray or tan walls are preferable because ofter in tone and easier to keep clean in General Repairing

There was more truth than poetry in the humorous cartoon showing the woman in an old-fashioned kitchen, walking several rods during the making of an apple pie. At our meeting a kitchen plan was shown and the lines of travel traced which the owner would walk during the preparation of meals. The plan was then re-arranged by means of a few changes which would save many hours of work and miles of travel during the year. We then adjourned to our hostyear. We then adjourned to our host-ess' kitchen and watched her make a pot of coffee, walking just eight steps, while our specialist told how in the old kitchen of her girlhood home, she had walked eighty steps in performing the same task, while a little thought in arrangement of materials would have saved time and steps. The advantages of tea carts. wheel trays, and tables on castors were discussed. Our hostess explained the advantages of her kitchen which she planned just as she wanted it when they

Other kitchen problems were talked over, and I am sure every one of us went home and improved our own kitchens, if only to move the salt box and the coflee canister nearer the stove.

I put them into a hot oven for 15 minutes and then fill in lemon, butter-scotch, apple, or anything else I like, provided it has been cooked, and then to make it extra fine I cover them with a meringue and bake again very slowly I save a lot of time by mixing my pie crust in large amounts, putting in every-thing but the water. It keeps indefinitely in a cool place and the job of pie-making is nothing if you don't have to get your hands into the lard every time.

Harp and Xylophone Solos by Pasquale Montani Pasquale Montani, who is featured as the harp soloist with Green and his Band, is of American birth, but of Italian parentage. He is of a family of seven brothers, all of whom are musicians. He is a most accomplishtor, is one of the finer band conduc ed harpist who, while playing classical numbers with a marvelous technique and understanding, makes them symphony orchestra. He lifts wind as enjoyable as the well-known and more simple ballad numbers which he also uses.

Mr. Montani will fill a regular place in the band as flutist and will double on piccolo and saxophone. He will also play during the band program one or two xylophone solos. Not only does Green and his Band make a feast for the ear. But they pictorially, are perfect. The uniforms are striking. The instruments are beautiful to look upon. The harp and xylophone are themselves majestic instruments. The stage is set in royal purple hangings.
